SCUBA: DIVING DEEPER

JAMES DIXON SCOR GLOBAL LIFE CANADA

It used to be, when underwriting SCUBA divers, the decision was as simple as gauging the maximum depth dived, determining presence of any specialty diving and applying either a rating for the depth, and/or a flat extra for the specialty.

Based on recent research, we are taking a more holistic approach. In looking beyond these simple criteria, we now include comorbid medical conditions such as diabetes, history of heart disease or hypertension, asthma, and seizure history, factoring all these into our final decision. We have also accepted that there is a protective factor in SCUBA, as well as many other avocations, that comes with a high level of experience in the sport. As such, we are allowing a credit for those highly experienced, healthy divers engaged in deeper and/or more complex dives.
